PROFILE

Video editor and cinematographer with a developer's mindset. I produce videos in many formats, from short-form social content and campaigns to podcasts and live events, and I've gained hands-on experience on a national TV production. I also write code in Python and Java and build small web projects, so I can handle both the creative and the technical side of a job. Currently a student at the Faculty of Computer and Information Science and the Faculty of Electrical Engineering, University of Ljubljana.
